

Navigation Plan

- My site will have a nav bar with several links to pages about whales.
- Each linked site will have different information about whales, which will be titled in the link.
- To get back to the main page, there will simply be a fixed image in the top right corner of the page that the user will click to go back to the main page.